Shape of the Week: Heart Number of the week: # 1

Color of the Week: Red Letter of the Week: A a

Welcome Letter: I have included a welcome letter, along with your information packet in your child's cubby. Please read through this information carefully. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to ask me.; that's why I'm here!

Reminder: This is a reminder that all shoes need to have a closed heel and toe area. Please refer to your school handbook for more information. Also, please remember to label all your child's items that they may bring to school; this includes lunches, hat, share items, sweaters, etc.

Home Enrichment Activities:

- Play "Simon Says" with your child and substitute their name in place of Simon. Have your child ask you to touch your toes, head, ears, nose, etc. Make sure you get a turn and help guide them as they learn to play the game. It may take time for your child to learn the concept and the different parts of the body.
- Make a fruit salad with your child. Combine pieces of different fruits in a bowl and top with your favorite yogurt. Talk with your child about the benefits of eating healthy snacks and how it fuels our bodies!. God has blessed us with so many healthy foods to eat!
- Discuss with your child the story of "Creation" and how God created our beautiful world! (Genesis 1:1-2)
